HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling invented by H B Hoagland we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.
It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore easily and speedily separated It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant and is convenient, safe and secure
It is easy to change in this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best in use

An Argument for Recognition

The following from the New York Herald of the 12th November shows one of the methods employed by the Cuban insurgents to humbug the United States into recognizing the independence of the Cuban Republic

The proclamation of Cespedes with regard to destroying the growing cane which mostly belongs to Cubans but if gathered would be used by the Spaniards against them is fraught with more importance to the United States than is understood in this country The Cuban agents will shortly give the public a statement based on United States official reports which will be very startling up to this time the Cuban insurgents have never attempted to destroy sugar plantations except in the east end of the island where there are very few In the right season when there was no army of Spanish soldiers intrenched in each of the sugar works a band of twenty five men was sufficient to fire the cane in half a dozen garrisoned estates almost within sight of each other When dry enough and nearly ready for the mill [illegible] the [illegible] burn like coal oil Accidental fires have been known to spread through ten miles of sugar cane in three hours The burning ordered [illegible] planned and systematized will take place up [illegible] within an hour's ride of Havana One hundred thousand troops could not stop it When a [illegible] one hundred estates are burned which will [illegible] in the first week of operations the incredulous [illegible] interest will begin to believe and sugar will [illegible] up ten per cent at a time A glance at the [illegible] of the Cubans shows First That half the sugar used in the United States comes from Cuba second that sugar and tobacco give the United States over $25 000 000 revenue [illegible] [illegible] that the United States export $ [illegible] 000 000 of [illegible] [illegible] fourth from $5 000 000 to $ [illegible] 000 000 [illegible] fifth the profits made in the United States by sugar refineries This sugar if destroyed [illegible] Cuba as undoubtedly nineteen twentieths of [illegible] [illegible] and Cuba having no other resources what will become of the United States duties" What will become of the $ [illegible] 000 000 or $20 000 000 of [illegible] and machinery heretofore exported [illegible] Cuba etc The loss to the United States [illegible] reckoned at a high figure but is certainly $50 000 000 or $60 000 000 and that not for one year but for the next and the next and all might have been avoided by recognition

The U S Circuit Judgeship

(Correspondence San Francisco Bulletin.)

WASHINGTON Nov 5 1869

As the time approaches when the law remodeling the judicial system is to go into effect, public interest in the subject is more fully awakened and quiet but powerful efforts in behalf of the candidates for appointment under its provisions become more powerful and numerous The preferences and intentions of the President are still kept [illegible] of unduly secret but in regard to the Pacific Circuit from reliable sources, facts have come into my possession which may readily be shaped into probabilities and which, indeed seem to indicate quite clearly who is to be the recipient of the appointment

The most prominent candidates are Judge Hoffman of the United States District Court for California Judge Deady of the District Court for Oregon and Judge Sawyer, of the Supreme Court of California. The support upon which they respectively rely may be thus described Judge Hoffman is warmly endorsed for the position by a very large number of the merchants and about half of the members of the bar of San Francisco whose signatures are appended to a petition now on file in the White House. It is said that he counts also upon the influence of Secretary Fish in the Cabinet and Mr. Conkling in the Senate also the support of Senator Cole, who thinks that his long and faithful services as District Judge has justly entitled him to promotion (For Judge Sawyer the Senator would reserve the District Judgeship when thus made vacant)

Judge Deady has placed on file the unanimous recommendation of the bar of Oregon, will be enthusiastically supported by Senators Williams and Corbett when they arrive here, and has now the influential support of Justice Field of the Supreme Court. There is reason to believe also that a good word will be spoken for him by Vice President Colfax

Like the Oregon candidate, Judge Sawyer has literally "a friend at Court;" for Justice Swayne, with whom he studied law many years ago loses no opportunity to eulogize him warmly Gen Sherman is another personal friend of Judge Sawyer's, and so is Elihue Washburne, from whom it is said, a letter favoring his appointment is now on file. Such a letter from all his associates on the Supreme Bench of California has undoubtedly been laid before the President; and in addition to similar testimonials from leading men of the State and the support previously referred to he may count upon the support of Representative Sargent.

Other candidates for the position have been suggested but will command little strength Senators Stewart and Nye will probably recommend (if they have not already recommended) M. C Hillyer or B C Whitman of Nevada, for the appointment but this action on their part will be merely a kind of "complimentary vote," after which they will doubtless join forces with the friends of either Sawyer or Deady.

WHAT THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL THINKS.

In regard to all these appointments one question must be settled at the outset namely Is it advisable or desirable to fill the new places by promotions of District Judges? Mr Hoar is decidedly opposed to adopting this plan, believing that the peculiar talents and especially the long experience which render a man useful and valuable as a District Judge, rather call for his [illegible] tion in office than [illegible] his [illegible] to another bench where the qualifications required are of a different character In the case of Judge Hoffman the Attorney-General [illegible] [illegible] that while the commercial [illegible] [illegible] and the Bar of San Francisco would be glad to see him honored by promotion, they would nevertheless be sorry (and in that interest [illegible]) if he were taken from the [illegible] where his knowledge of admiralty law [illegible] been so [illegible] displayed. Hence if [illegible] Hoffman is not made Circuit Judge, and [illegible] and other District Judges are not promoted, his [illegible] in the position which he now fills, may [illegible] be considered in the light of a compliment, and certainly will not be properly regarded as a slight [illegible] the whole, then, it would [illegible] that the [illegible] lies practically between Judges Deady and Sawyer, with the changes in favor of the latter, and that in the event of Hoffman's [illegible] Sawyer will [illegible] him as Justice of the [illegible] Court.

How Elections are Managed by the Tammany Ring

From the New York Sun

According to the returns of the Inspectors of Election not a vote was cast in the Ninth [illegible] ward for Mr Thomas W [illegible], one of the candidates for the Marine Court Judgeship Mr Kearney had lived in the Nineteenth ward over thirteen years Over six hundred [illegible] alone in that ward have sworn that they voted for him. Mr. Kearney has that list in his possession, It is possible that the Tammany inspectors made these returns for the purpose of killing the outside Democratic organization that nominated Mr Kearney The returns are false on their face.

Jacob Cohen was nominated for Supervisor three months before the election He spent over seventy thousand dollars in presenting his claims for the office to the people. As the returns are received at headquarters, it would seem that he received exactly 3,621 votes. The tenth ward is credited with 165 of these votes. At a meeting last evening, three hundred and seventy five residents of that ward swore that they voted for Mr Cohen Mr Cohen says that he has the names of over six thousand [illegible] in this city, who declare that they cast their ballots for him. The evidence shows that the returns were false What candidate is credited with Mr Cohen's votes?

In the First district of the First ward inspectors returned only fifty three votes for Horace Greeley for Comptrollership An influential resident of the ward called upon the Police Superintendent and made oath that to his personal knowledge over two hundred votes had been cast in that district for Mr Greeley. The Superintendent turned him over to Supervisor Smith one of the candidates for re-election, who sent a well known ward politician to look out for the fraud That was the last of it.

In the Ninth district of the Seventh ward in Scammel street Mr William C. Foley offered a ballot bearing the name of Horace Greeley As these ballots were longer than others they were easily recognized The inspector who received Mr Foley's ballot opened it and tore it in pieces depositing the strips in the box This inspector is at large ready for duty in the coming municipal election If he is as useful to the Ring in counting as he is in receiving votes he may be sure of a reappointment

Mr John Murray headed a gang of [illegible] [illegible] on Tuesday afternoon, and spent several hours in voting in the Third district of the Fifteenth ward The whole party entered and cast their votes under one set of names, then went out and returned to vote under other names The inspectors and policemen did not seem to heed them [illegible] and they had things all their own way We have this fact from a prominent county official who told his story at police headquarters Mr Murray is still at large

In the Third district of the Eighth ward one of the inspectors early in the afternoon, copied from the registry books the names of those who had not voted and then handed a list to a notorious repeater named Lynch whose gang voted upon the names until the list had been exhausted. A county official gave these facts to the police superintendent but Mr Lynch still walks the streets and is probably concocting a plan of operations for the December campaign

Nearly two hundred illegal voters were arrested [illegible] election day Not one has been punished [illegible] one is in custody Their arrest was a sheer farce

During the election a large body of repeaters were [illegible] through every district of the Nineteenth ward and cast their votes without hindrance

NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling invented by H. B. Hoagland we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best in use.

One of Philips' Phillipics.

NEWBURYPORT Dec 1—Wendell Phillips in a speech at the Lyceum last night demanded that Congress assume to the Government what the Executive had abdicated that it compel the States lately in rebellion to educate their eight millions of dunces and if they refuse to do so then that Government itself at the expense of all the people assume the duty and afterwards send in a bill to the different States. We must protect citizens as well as legislate for them. The war is not ended but just begun. The speaker severely criticized the New York Tribune for virtually saying on Saturday that we could not carry on this movement unless we entreat Jefferson Davis to come and help us. Phillips said the Southern whites have got business and wealth. They have captured the Supreme Court. A worse than Taney wields its thunderbolts to-day. The recreant Republican man who drags the ermine through the infamy of Tammany Hall means to contest the election with a candidate of the Republican party. If the Republican party had a brave man at its head he would marshal its forces and absolutely impregnate every Northern mind with the demand that land be given to the blacks as freely as possible. He spoke with great force of the coming tide of Orientals to the Pacific shore which is going to be a greater act of American civilization than anything that it has yet experienced.

Red River Rebellion

TORONTO Dec 1 A special from St Paul says late Red River advices say a convention assembled at Fort Garry Nov 17th to discuss the following propositions: First a compromise with Governor McDougall second an independent Republic third annexation to the United States fourth a colony under Great Britain fifth return to the Hudson's Bay Company rule. So far the French half breeds only have taken up arms. The English and Scotch half breeds are yet undecided.

Embarrassed between two principles he is undecided halting and uncertain which way he will incline. Time was when such a condition would have been dangerous to the peaceful development of French progress but it is now past. Various Paris letters published in the morning papers agree that the Emperor's speech at the opening of the Corps Legislatiff fell flat on the public mind and disappointed all. The more the speech is considered the less it is liked.

An Argument for Recognition

The following from the New York Herald of the 2[illegible]th November shows one of the methods employed by the Cuban insurgents to humbug the United States into recognizing the independence of the Cuban Republic.

The proclamation of Cespedes with regard to destroying the growing cane which mostly belongs to Cubans but if gathered would be used by the Spaniards against them is fraught with more importance to the United States than is understood in this country. The Cuban agents will shortly give to the public a statement based on United States official reports which will be very startling. Up to this time the Cuban insurgents have never attempted to destroy sugar plantations except in the east end of the island where there are very few. In the right season when there was a company of Spanish soldiers intrenched on each of the sugar works a band of twenty five men was sufficient to fire the cane in half a dozen large sugar estates almost within sight of each other. When dry enough and nearly ready for the mill the canefields burn like coal. Accidental fires have been known to spread through nine miles of sugar cane in three hours. The burning ordered [illegible] planned and systematized will take place up within an hour's ride of Havana. One hundred thousand troops could not stop it. When about one hundred estates are burned which will occur in the first week of operations the incredulous sugar interest will begin to believe and sugar will jump up ten per cent at a time. A glance at the memoria of the Cubans shows—First. That half the sugar used in the United States comes from Cuba; second that sugar and tobacco give the United States over $25 000 000 revenue [illegible] third that the United States export $11 000 000 of [illegible] fourth from $[illegible] 000 000 to $[illegible] 000 000 of machinery; fifth the profits made in the United States by sugar refineries. This sugar if destroyed in Cuba as undoubtedly nineteen-twentieths of it will be, and Cuba having no other resources what will become of the United States duties? What will become of the $11 000 000 or $20 000 000 of provisions and machinery heretofore exported to Cuba etc. This loss to the United States reckoned at a high figure but is certainly $50 000 000 or $60 000 000 and that not for one year but for the next and the next and all might have been avoided by recognition.

A bill has passed the Dakota House of Representatives by five majority giving the women the right to vote and hold office.

The U S Circuit Judgeship

[Correspondence San Francisco Bulletin]

WASHINGTON Nov 5 1869

As the time approaches when the law remodeling the judicial system is to go into effect public interest in the subject is more fully awakened and quiet but powerful efforts in behalf of the candidates for appointment under its provisions become more powerful and numerous. The preferences and intentions of the President are still kept profoundly secret but in regard to the Pacific Circuit from reliable sources facts have come into my possession which may readily be shaped into probabilities and which indeed seem to indicate quite clearly who is to be the recipient of the appointment.

The most prominent candidates are Judge Hoffman of the United States District Court for California, Judge Deady of the District Court for Oregon and Judge Sawyer, of the Supreme Court of California. The support upon which they respectively rely may be thus described. Judge Hoffman is warmly endorsed for the position by a very large number of the merchants and about half of the members of the bar of San Francisco whose signatures are appended to a petition now on file in the White House. It is said that he counts also upon the influence of Secretary Fish in the Cabinet and Mr Conkling in the Senate also the support of Senator Cole, who thinks that his long and faithful service as District Judge has justly entitled him to promotion. (For Judge Sawyer the Senator would reserve the District Judgeship when thus made vacant.)

Judge Deady has placed on file the [illegible] recommendation of the bar of Oregon, will be enthusiastically supported by Senators Williams and Corbett when they arrive here, and has now the influential support of Justice Field of the Supreme Court. There is reason to believe also that a good word will be spoken for him by Vice President Colfax.

Like the Oregon candidate, Judge Sawyer has, literally, "a friend at Court," for Justice Swayne, with whom he studied law many years ago loses no opportunity to eulogize him warmly. Gen Sherman is another personal friend of Judge Sawyer's, and so is Elihu Washburne, from whom it is said, a letter favoring his appointment is now on file. Such a letter from all his associates on the Supreme Bench of California has undoubtedly been laid before the President, and in addition to similar testimonials from leading men of the State, and the support previously referred to he may count upon the support of Representative Sargent.

Other candidates for the position have been suggested but will command little strength. Senators Stewart and Nye will probably recommend (if they have not already recommended) M. C Hillyer or B C Whitman, of Nevada, for the appointment but this action on their part will be merely a kind of "complimentary vote," after which they will doubtless join forces with the friends of either Sawyer or Deady.

WHAT THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL THINKS

In regard to all these appointments one question must be settled at the outset namely. Is it advisable or desirable to fill the new places by promotions of District Judges? Mr Hoar is decidedly opposed to adopting this plan, believing that the peculiar talents and especially the long experience which render a man useful and valuable as a District Judge, rather call for his retention in office than warrant his promotion to another bench where the qualifications required are of a different character. In the case of Judge Hoffman the Attorney-General probably [illegible] that while the commercial community and the Bar of San Francisco would be glad to see him honored by promotion, they would nevertheless be sorry (and in that interest would be injured,) if he were taken from the [illegible] where his knowledge of admiralty law, etc, has been so [illegible] fully displayed. Hence if Judge Hoffman is not made Circuit Judge, and Deady and other District Judges are not [illegible], his election to the position which he now fills, may perhaps be considered in the light of a compliment, and [illegible] will not be properly regarded as a slight. On the whole then, it would [illegible] that the [illegible] lies practically between Judges Hoffman and Sawyer, with the chances in favor of the latter, and that in the event of Hoffman's promotion, Sawyer will succeed him as Justice of the District Court.

How Elections are Managed by the Tammany Ring.

From the New York Sun

According to the returns of the Inspectors of Election not a vote was cast in the Nineteenth ward for Mr Thomas W Kearney, one of the candidates for the Marine Court Judgeship. Mr Kearney had lived in the Nineteenth ward over thirteen years. Over six hundred persons in that ward have sworn that they voted for him. Mr. Kearney has that list in his possession. It is possible that the Tammany inspectors made these returns for the purpose of killing the outside Democratic organization that nominated Mr Kearney. The returns are false on their face.

Jacob Cohen was nominated for Supervisor three months before the election. He spent over seventy thousand dollars in presenting his claims for the office to the people. As the returns are received at headquarters it would seem that he received exactly 3,821 votes. The tenth ward is credited with 166 of these votes. At a meeting last evening, three hundred and seventy five residents of that ward swore that they voted for Mr Cohen. Mr Cohen says that he has the names of over six thousand persons in this city, who declare that they cast their ballots for him. The evidence shows that the returns were false. What candidate is credited with Mr. Cohen's votes?

In the First district of the First ward inspectors returned only fifty-three votes for Horace Greeley for Comptrollership. An influential resident of the ward called upon the Police Superintendent and made oath that to his personal knowledge over two hundred votes had been cast in that district for Mr Greeley. The Superintendent turned him over to Supervisor Smith one of the candidates for re-election, who sent a well known ward politician to look out for the fraud. That was the last of it.

In the Ninth district of the Seventh ward in Scammel street Mr William C. Foley offered a ballot bearing the name of Horace Greeley. As these ballots were longer than others they were easily recognized. The inspector who received Mr Foley's ballot opened it and tore it in pieces depositing the strips in the box. This inspector is at large ready for duty in the coming municipal election. If he is as useful to the Ring in counting as he is in receiving votes he may be sure of a reappointment.

Mr John Murray headed a gang of repeaters on Tuesday afternoon, and spent several hours in voting in the Third district of the Fifteenth ward. The whole party entered and cast their votes under one set of names then went out and returned to vote under other names. The inspectors and policemen did not seem to heed these fellows and they had things all their own way. We have this fact from a prominent county official who told his story at police headquarters. Mr Murray is still at large.

In the Third district of the Eighth ward one of the inspectors early in the afternoon copied from the registry books the names of those who had not voted and then handed a list to a notorious repeater named Lynch whose gang voted upon the names until the list had been exhausted. A county official gave these facts to the police superintendent but Mr Lynch still walks the streets and is probably concocting a plan of operations for the December campaign.

Nearly two hundred illegal voters were arrested [illegible] election day. Not one has been punished. Not one is in custody. Their arrest was a sham farce.

During the election a large body of repeaters went through every district of the Nineteenth ward and cast their votes without hindrance.

A Discussion Revived

The California press has been set agoing again on the Chinese question by a letter written by John Stuart Mill to a Californian who had addressed him asking his views on the general subject of Chinese immigration into America and its probable consequences Mr Mill's letter may be summed up briefly thus He believes that if Chinese immigration should attain very great dimensions the result would be economically injurious to the mass of the present population, but he thinks it highly improbable that those people will come here of their own accord in such large numbers as to compete injuriously with American labor This is a sound opinion, and though Mr Mill could not well be aware of it, the fact is very apparent here that the Chinese population in America is now rather diminishing than increasing For several months more Chinese have been departing from than entering California The last steamer from San Francisco to China carried seven hundred, the last steamer but one took upwards of one thousand The arrivals on the other hand, are now not so numerous as they were several years ago Very few are born in this country, and of those now here none expect to remain. They do not come in families to settle, and were it not for the schemes of Southern planters to bring them in and work them under the coolie system, we should see no reason to suppose that their numbers in America would ever be augmented so as to much exceed the ratio they bear at present to our white population

The whole importance which this question has yet attained in this country is fictitious and ephemeral, because that importance has not grown out of the appearance of the subject in any great social and economical aspect, but has proceeded wholly from the efforts of political charlatans and office-hunting demagogues who have found it a good card to play for partisan purposes. But every agitation of this character must necessarily be short-lived. The "Chinese question," as a political lever, has already lost its power The Democratic party can make nothing more of it. The action of Southern Democrats, who are the only persons proposing to import Chinese labor, completely confounds the petty demagogues of that party in the Northern States who have been using this thing as a political weapon. Stop these coolie importation schemes, and there is no danger that the Chinese will ever come to the United States in such numbers as to do injury to the mass of the white working population

Greenback Debts.

It is asserted by Eastern journals that the Supreme Court has actually come to a conclusion on the legal tender question, but the decision declaring the law unconstitutional is withheld for prudential reasons The Chicago Tribune [illegible] that Chief Justice Chase, who took us away from specie payments, is anxious to restore the country to a coin basis, but thinks he is managing the question rather as a politician and financier than a jurist. The decision last winter, that coin was still a "legal tender," was generally felt to be a step towards resumption; and the recent decision that [illegible] payable in Confederate currency can be collected in so much gold as the sum called for in Confederate currency was worth at the time the contract was made, is thought to be the declaration of a principle whose logical conclusion will do much to simplify specie resumption. For if the Supreme Court is about to decide the legal tender act to be unconstitutional, then that act will be just as null as the rebel legal tender act, and the nullity will be followed by the same legal results, that is, contracts made during the greenback period will be payable in so much gold as the greenbacks called for by the contract are worth at the date or at the maturity of the contract.

In General

A further reduction of the debt is to be noted. Seven and a-half millions are the figures for November. Seventy-three millions are the figures for Gen Grant's nine months! This will do. The people are satisfied. They like Gen. Grant as far as they have got with him, and look for the good work to on through his whole term And then they will elect him for another.

In spite of the heavy duty laid on Canadian lumber imported into the United States, the amount of lumber so imported is now more than double what it was six years ago During the year 1868 nearly six hundred million feet came from Canada into the United States Notwithstanding the abrogation of the reciprocity treaty, the United States is still the best market for the products of Canada

A general movement is making among the Germans of New York city to secure instruction in the German language in the public schools. On the 12th November a general committee, representing twenty-two wards of the city, met to consider and discuss the subject. It was resolved to place in nomination in the different Wards or districts such candidates for School Trustees as would favor the movement.

The rapid appreciation of the currency, if that appreciation be sustained, will make it necessary to readjust taxation so as to accommodate it to the new system of values As the purchasing power of the currency increases the value of all other property diminishes proportionally, so that a near approach to what is called a specie basis would render it very difficult for the country to meet the present high rate of taxation, municipal, State and National This is one of the very many considerations which the changing condition of financial affairs will make it necessary to take into account

The indications are that Dent is defeated in Mississippi Alcorn, his competitor for the Governorship, is an old resident who has for many years been prominent in Mississippi affairs We noticed yesterday that the Herald had a column 'leader' on the Mississippi election, in which the statement was made that "if Dent should be elected the miserable thieving carpet-baggers and scalawags will demand that the election be set aside" As Dent himself is not a citizen of Mississippi, but a carpet bagger of the most disreputable kind, this observation of the Herald's may be set down as a bit of delicate Democratic satire

Evidences of the growing prosperity of the Southern States are continually multiplying South Carolina presents a notable instance of this new growth. During the past year the people of that State have paid over two and a half million dollars into the Internal Revenue Department besides a million dollars State taxes, while their debt has been very greatly reduced This cheering exhibit is due mainly to the abundance of the rice and cotton crops of the past year the value of which will reach if it has not exceeded twenty five million dollars The Northern Democratic papers however will still have it that the South is going to ruin at a rapid rate under the baneful tyranny of Radicalism

The San Francisco Call in noticing the changes in business in that city which have been introduced by the railroad says "Now we are not only of the Union but in it not only in the periphery but drawn close to the hub of the country Henceforth our people of all classes must contend in rivalry with those of the East or South who can step into a car in the State of Maine or Mississippi and put their heels on our pavements in eight days time Henceforth, no selling clothing or other goods at two or three times their cost at the Last. No more monopoly of the labor market Our men who use pick and spade saw and plane will have competition now such as not before for twenty years Our merchants must change their narcotics for excitants—their waiting for business to a hunt for it This is very well said and we in Oregon must make speedy preparation for a similar change

The causes of the Red river rebellion of which so much has been said of late in the telegraphic dispatches, are simply these A few months ago the Dominion of Canada consummated its long pending negotiations with the Hudson's Bay Company by purchasing their rights and property in that district for $300,000 in gold Upon completion of the transaction, the Canadian authorities assumed possession of the territory heretofore tenanted by some 20 000 trappers and Indians commissioned a Governor one McDougall and drafted a constitution for the province regarding it as a member of the Confederation They followed the matter up closely by sending a batch of surveyors to divide their new territory into townships Here the flame kindled which now menaces the authority of the Dominion The Chippewa Indians and the half-breeds chiefly French, took exception to the action of the Dominion Government in two particulars First, they claimed the Hudson's Bay Company had no title to their lands, that therefore the Company could not sell them, and that the Dominion surveyors had no right to divide the soil Secondly, they urged an inexplicable and vague objection to forming an integral portion of the Confederation, probably induced thereto by the prevalent discontent in the Lower Provinces This rebellion has assumed quite a formidable shape, but no doubt it will be suppressed

POLITICAL.

The Republicans of New Jersey, though defeated in the late election, did well. They made gains in both branches of the Legislature, and consider themselves certain of electing a majority of both next year.

The Springfield (Ill) Journal "congratulates the people of Illinois upon the fact, that in spite of the unfortunate defection which resulted in the election of three members to the State Constitutional Convention from Cook county opposite in politics to the sentiments of the majority of the people—an example which was followed by three or four of our Republican counties, but no where by a Democratic county—after conceding to our opponents all they have the face to claim we have a clear and unquestioned majority in that body "

The New York Herald of November 17th says The House of Representatives of Tennessee yesterday rejected the fifteenth amendment, which would raise a doubt of complete ratification this winter but for the intelligence that the Alabama Legislature, by a very decisive vote, has just adopted the amendment. With a little encouragement, therefore, to the Republican States that have not yet ratified it, the amendment, before New Year's Day, may become a part of the supreme law of the land. A word or two from Gen Grant will fix it.

New York is getting into a fearful agitation of admiration because two of her Judges have rendered righteous decisions. They were both to the effect that no marriage ceremony other than the mutual agreement of the parties, followed by cohabitation, is necessary to make a man and woman husband and wife This doctrine has not been law more than two hundred years, but so much the more remarkable that a New York Judge should have decided in accordance with it. Judge Barnard neglected to say that his decision would hold good in all cases, except where the husband was connected with Tammany Hall or Erie Railway, but that is, of course, understood.

The Salem Statesman has the following pointed remarks. The Democratic dailies of Portland are much exercised, because Senator Williams has represented at Washington that the twenty miles of the East side railroad was approaching completion, and that commissioners should be appointed to examine and accept it No sensible man would believe that he had said that the road was already built for twenty miles, or that the gentlemen named as commissioners would be willing to accept an unfinished or ill constructed road The fact is, these worthy cotemporaries of ours are keen scented enough to nose an African in every fence, and sharpsighted enough to think every bush an officer

The Jacksonville Sentinel learns from Arthur Lanyell a resident of Link River valley that the Snake River Indians previously guarded at Fort Warner have recently been brought to Fort Klamath Their numbers are variously estimated at from 400 to 1 000 He thinks this band comprises all the Indians previously located at Fort Warner

A letter from Roseburg to the Sentinel says The surveyors and engineers have recently returned from the Coos Bay road survey Distance from Roseburg to available navigation on Coos Bay by the survey is 61 miles said to be a good route for a wagon road Their reports and plans were submitted to a meeting of the directors on the 17th It is certainly a big thing on paper their map being sixteen feet in length by five feet in breadth

The Roseburg Ensign says There is considerable uneasiness felt in this land district among men who have purchased and paid for tracts of land known as 'indemnity school lands,' These lands were selected by School Superintendents in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty sixth sections granted to the State for school purposes But the selections were very informal and the General Land Office has no knowledge of them The probable consequence will be that the occupants of these lands will have to buy them over again

A correspondent of the Elton Lu Faje writes us follows To give an idea of the incapacity of those who come to hire I will relate a story told me by a friend who wished a capable servant, and was told that one desiring a situation was awaiting an audience Summoning the darkey before her the lady questioned, Can you cook nicely Jane? FOREIGN NOTES.

The London Morning Post says that Dr. Lushington is in full mental vigor that he does not hesitate to talk about the Byron scandal, but that he pointedly refuses to say what Lady Byron told him fifty four years ago

A Constantinople despatch states that a definite concession has been granted for Roumelian railways to connect the Bosphorus with the European lines, and to open direct communication between Thrace and Macedonia and the ports of Salonica, Enos, and Constantinople

The English Parliament of 1770 was an exceedingly ungallant one It enacted that "Whoever should lead into matrimonial bonds any male subject of Her Majesty by means of rouge or powders, perfumes, essences, artificial teeth, false hair, Spanish cotton, iron corsets, crinolines, high heeled shoes, or false calves, should be prosecuted for sorcery, and the marriage declared null and void " The Figaro impudently asks who could marry now under such an act

It is reported that in Great Britain there are 2,415 cotton manufactories, employing 152,656 men and 204,306 women The woolen factories are 1 420 in number, and furnish work to 52,000 men and 5 000 women Nearly 600 silk manufactories employ 12,000 laborers The total number of workmen employed in England and Wales in factories of apparel is 276,788 men and 390,880 women In Scotland there are 507 factories, giving work to 30,000 men and 82 000 women in Ireland, 198 factories, with 22 022 workmen and 50,301 women

A great workingmen's exhibition will be held in London in 1870 The most notable feature of the project is that each article exposed is to bear the signature of the workman by whom it was made that in trades where division of labor is the rule, specimens of each particular branch are to be submitted and workmen are invited to co operate with each other in the production of combined articles. Agricultural produce and raw materials used in manufactures are also to be exhibited from all parts of the world Mr Gladstone is President supported by sundry noblemen as Vice Presidents The Agricultural Hall, Islington a building able to contain 30,000 people, is to be the scene of the exhibition The French and other Governments are zealously co operating to secure a proper representation of their products

How is it that in the large European cities where provisions are so high the price of living is actually lower than with us? Thus a restaurant called the Cafe California, in Paris, has for some years dispensed to the poor of that city good, cooked meat at two cents per plate and of an inferior quality as low as one cent We notice that an enterprising importer of Australian meat, preserved beef and mutton, is about to repeat the experiment in London He promises to furnish a meat dinner 'well cooked, savory and nutritious' with the addition of potatoes at the same moderate rate. Those who desire to fare sumptuously may replace the same repast with a plate of soup with bread also for two pence Are not such establishments worthy of imitation in the New World?

European savants and weather wise persons generally predict that the coming winter will be a very severe one The last, it will be recollected, was remarkably mild In point of mildness the winters of 1797 1822 1828 and 1834 are the only ones within the last quarter of a century that approached it A distinguished European naturalist writing to the Bulletin of the Scientific Society of Anjou, tells the world that since the atmospheric perturbations of 1859 60 the years have been warmer clearer and dryer and the barometer pressure lighter than before These anomalies he thinks cannot fail to find their compensation during the winter before closely corresponding with that of 1828 and everything betokening that about 1870 we shall have a great winter like that of 1829 30

THE CONFIDENCE MAN IN TOWN.—On Wednesday evening, three or four men arrived at this city from Montana and put up at the American Exchange. Upon registering their names, one of them, Philip Morris, gave the clerk, Mr. Perkins, his canteens containing about six hundred dollars in gold dust for deposit in the [illegible], taking a check therefor. Some hours afterward and after Mr. Morris had gone to bed one of the other men, registered as John Leonard, went up to the bar, Mr Quimby being in attendance, and asked for the canteens, saying that he wished to place an order in them. Mr Quimby asked him if he had a check; to which he replied that his partner or [illegible] had the check and had gone to bed, and that it was all right any way as he only wanted to put something in them. Upon this Mr Quimby handed him the [illegible]. Leonard took them a little to one side a moment and then returned them to Mr Quimby. Yesterday morning, he was astonished to find that the man was missing, that he had no connection with [illegible], only as a chance traveling companion, that he had played a trick upon him to get hold of the canteens and that a portion of gold dust had been abstracted. Mr Quimby and Mr Morris at once informed Marshal Saunders, who [illegible] went about working up the [illegible]. Telegrams were started to Vancouver, Dalles, etc., giving description of the man. It was soon found that Leonard had offered the dust for sale at one or two places, and had bought some clothes, paying gold dust. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon a telegram was received from Sheriff Burgie of Clarke county that such a man had been at Vancouver yesterday and had offered gold dust for sale, and that he had got on board the steamer Cascade, bound for Portland. Mr [illegible], just at the moment of reading the dispatch heard the Cascade's whistle, whereupon he mounted a passing express wagon and drove with haste to the landing, arriving just in time to see the first passenger come off. His man did not however appear. After all the [illegible] had got off, he requested one or two officers of the boat to watch the gangway while he should go through the boat. He searched all the upper cabins, [illegible], etc., without success. He next went below, and in one of the little rooms occupied by the boat's crew, he found the fellow ensconced in a bunk. [illegible] and lodged him in the county jail. Some [illegible] twenty-four of the twenty-seven ounces of dust [illegible] contained were recovered. The bal[illegible] Leonard owns up to taking the [illegible]. He will have a preliminary examination this [illegible] before Justice Hall, by whom the warrant for [illegible].

THE NEW [illegible] STEAMER.—The steamer being [illegible] by Capt. Smith of Monticello, for the opposition [illegible] on the Columbia river has been taken down to the [illegible] Iron Works to receive her machinery. It is [illegible] that she will be ready to commence running in [illegible] of four or five weeks.

[illegible] HOUSES AT EAST PORTLAND.—We are in[illegible] that tenement houses at East Portland are just [illegible] about the scarcest thing that can be mentioned. [illegible] excitement concerning real estate has had the [illegible] in a considerable flow of population and [illegible] places are taken.

[illegible] SALEM.—Several of the P. T. Co's steamer [illegible] gone to Salem this week to attend the annual [illegible] of the stockholders of the company held yester[illegible]. Among the number whom we miss from their ac[illegible] places are Capt Kellogg and Purser Biles.

FESTIVAL.—The festival to be given by the ladies of the [illegible] Church, of this city, will come off this even[illegible] Washington Guard's Armory. The proceeds [illegible] used for the furnishing of the new church [illegible] the patronage will be liberal.

A SURPRISE PARTY.—Mr and Mrs Bates being about to leave the city to be absent some time, their friends gave them a surprise party last evening at which were a large number of ladies and gentlemen—the elite of the city.

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.—The regular meeting of the Philharmonic Society for rehearsal will take place this evening. There will be business of importance to transact and every member is earnestly requested to attend.

PASSENGERS.—An unusual number of passengers came down on the Dalles boat yesterday. Quite a number of them are from the mines. There were several arrivals from the mining regions the day before.

REMOVAL.—Mr. J. B. Congle has removed his immense stock of saddlery and harness, etc., to Masters' new brick, nearly opposite the old stand and just above Knapp, Burrell & Co.

A Mournful Suicide.

The following sad recital is from the Alta of November 19th:

About eleven o'clock yesterday morning a man named L. E. Hinckley, was found dead in a room in Mrs. McDonald's boarding house, near Fort Point. The deceased had taken a room there the night previous, being in search of his wife, whom he expected lived there, and from whom he had been separated for about a month. From the letters published below, which were found in his coat pocket it appears that for some time past he has been drinking to excess, though his wife did all in her power to induce him to change his course before leaving him. After he had got over his "spree" and come to his senses, being unable to procure work, and his wife refusing join him again, he determined to put an end to his existence. During the last week he has made several attempts to commit suicide, but the drug did not have the desired effect until yesterday. In the room was found lying in a paper containing a portion of the poison which he had taken.

The following notes were written in a plain legible business hand, in a small memorandum book, with a lead pencil:

November 12 1869.—This act I have attempted before but the agent was not sufficient. This time I trust I may be more successful. Domestic trouble is my reason for doing as I have, and that trouble has been occasioned because of idleness on my part. I could get nothing to do; drank to excess. About one month since, my wife left me, and since then I seemed to have lost all idea of right and moral principle. I did try to reform, but when I went to see my wife whom I love even in death she told me she would have nothing to do with me. That came upon me like a blow too heavy to bear.

My wife and children are at Fort Point at Mrs. McDonald's.

This is not an act of a coward. I have no faith, and, therefore, no fear. Mine has been a life full of trouble since the death of my good mother, 30 years since.

There seems to be nothing in this world for me, therefore, I leave it. I would I might have died with my family, but even that I am refused.

God bless you, dear wife and "Josie."
Good bye— L. E. HINCKLEY.

The county will have to bury me. I have no friends and my wife has not a cent.

To all and everybody, good bye. L E H

November 16, 1869.—Native of Massachusetts; aged 47.

The following was written on three sheets of note paper, in the same style:

LONE MOUNTAIN,
Wednesday, November, 17, 1869.

Darling, Dear "Rie," As this day without doubt will end my existence on earth it would be too inhuman to die and not make an expression of of my gratitude and affection to you, one of the best of friends, wife, and advisers ever God gave to any man. My heart is too full, I cannot write as I could talk to you. There is nothing, not the most simple thing, you have not done for me, and why I have been left to come to this end I am at lost to account for, save as you too often said to me RUM would bring me to. My position is of a nature that I never could meet with honor, therefore, for you, dear "Rie," our child and myself, I am, as I think, better off DEAD than living.

What death is, none of us know, but I do think and feel it cannot be more than the affliction of this sinful earth.

I went to Fort Point yesterday to see you once more—Sarah said you was in the city.

Take the advice of a dead husband and friend send home, get money, and leave the country. It's better for you and better for "Josie," her sensitive nature and your big heart will sooner get over what this and other acts of mine have occasioned you.

God bless you and "Josie," and forgive me.

Truly and affectionately in death as in life, your affectionate husband. L. E. HINCKLEY.

Addressed on the back to Mrs. Mariah P. Hinckley, care Mrs D. C. Bryan, Stockton street, San Francisco.

The subjoined correspondence sufficiently explains itself:

PORTLAND, Oregon Nov 16 1869.

MESSRS EVERSON & HAINES, General Agents New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, Boston.

Gentlemen—On my own behalf and in the name of my orphan children I beg to thank you, and through you the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston, for its munificence in paying me my terminated policy on the life of my husband. On the 21st January, 1869, misfortune compelled me to forego the payment of the last premium—which non payment in any other company would have lost me my policy—but I am now overjoyed with the receipt of the amount of the policy (less the amount of the unpaid premium only), thanks to the equity of the Massachusetts Lapse Laws, that must bless many widows and their children. I recommend the New England Mutual to all who would provide against possible misfortune. I sincerely thank you again, gentlemen, for the payment, and also for your generous and gentlemanly assistance in the matter.

Respectfully, BETSEY MILLER.

PORTLAND, OREGON Nov 15, 1869.

MESSRS EVERSON & HAINES, General Agents of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston.

Gentlemen—Having taken a lively interest in the affairs of the large and destitute family, left by an old resident of this city, who died Aug 2, 1869, and who was insured in the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, we take pleasure in making the following statement for the information of the public.

A. E. O. Miller was insured by ordinary Life Policy No 13,054 bearing date January 21, 1863. He paid annual payments to January 21 1868, inclusive. Since then nothing has been paid. He died August 2, 1869 over eighteen months after last payment of premium, yet your company working under the Equitable Lapse Laws of Massachusetts, pays the widow and orphans the whole policy, deducting only the premium due, while in all other companies doing business here, about which we know anything, the policy would long since have been forfeited.

By the New England Mutual, the widow has been paid $4,550 50. This we consider munificent, more especially when we take into consideration that the family would not have received a cent from any other company doing business on this coast. This in our estimation is enough to recommend this company above all others. This is Equity, this is Mutuality. We therefore, commend this company to the public as the only company that has no forfeitures.

We herewith inclose you the acknowledgments of the widow.

Respectfully yours, etc

What is a Tonic?

Bear this in mind—that although a [illegible] certain extent a stimulant—no stimulant unmodified by any medicinal substance is a tonic, but a DEBILITANT. In HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS there is a stimulating element of the purest grade manufactured in this or any other country. Every fiery and corrosive oil or acid which contaminates the ordinary liquors of commerce is expelled from the rye spirit which forms the alcoholic basis of the BITTERS by careful and repeated rectification. The juices of the valuable roots, barks and herbs infused into this wholesome product of the finest grain still further modify its nature, so that it becomes in fact a simple diffusive agent, minus all the heady and [illegible] exciting properties which belong more or less to all [illegible] in a raw state. It is merely the safe and harmless vehicle which renders the medicinal virtues of the preparation effective—increasing their active power and diffusing them through the system. Hence the pleasant and gentle glow which is experienced after taking a dose of the BITTERS. Instead of creating headache as unmedicated stimulants are apt to do, this salubrious tonic is the [illegible] known remedy for that complaint. It calms and soothes cerebral excitement, strengthens the nerves, promotes the secretion of the gastric juice, invigorates the bowels, determines the blood to the surface, improves the appetite, increases the animal vigor, regulates organic action, and from its mild yet effective alterative qualities is the very best preparation that can be administered to the weaker sex in the peculiar difficulties to which their organization subjects them.

THE PEOPLE SAY

That PRATT'S ABOLITION OIL is the best remedy in the world for the complete and speedy cure of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lame Back, Gout, Chilblains, Sprains, Bruises, Stiff and Swollen Joints, Contracted Cords and Muscles, Pains in the Breast and Sides, Nervous Headache, Toothache, Earache, Sore Throat, Colic, Cramps, Cholera Morbus, Diarrhoea and all internal and external aches and pains. Put up in two sizes—Price 50 cents and $1 00. Circulars with full directions around the bottles. For sale by all druggists.

THE BLOOD AND LIVER.

Life and health depend on their condition. PRATT'S NEW LIFE purifies the blood, heals old sores, expels from the system all scrofulous humors, cutaneous eruption and impure matter. It stimulates the Liver and Kidneys to healthy action, regulates the Bowels, cures Piles and Dyspepsia. Persons subject to Billious attacks and those suffering from the effects of Fever and Ague or any injudicious use of Quinine and Mercury will find PRATT'S NEW LIFE invaluable. Price $1 00.

A giant staff in a g[illegible] hand,
In the p[illegible] tree [illegible]
[illegible]
The [illegible] dews are falling
[illegible] the stone heap darts the mink
The swallow skims the river brink
And [illegible] the woodland [illegible]
When over the hill the farm[illegible]
Cheerily calling
"Co' boss [illegible] boss [illegible]
Farther, farther over the hill
Faintly calling, calling still
"Co' boss [illegible] boss [illegible]

Into the yard the farmer goes,
With grateful heart at the close of day
Harness and chain are hung away,
In the wag[illegible] shed stand [illegible]
The straw's in the stack, the hay in the mow
The cooling dews are falling
The friendly sheep his welcome bleat
The pigs come grunting to his feet,
The whinnying mare her [illegible]
When in the yard the farmer goes,
His cattle calling,
"Co' boss [illegible] boss [illegible]
While still the cow boy, far away,
Goes seeking those that have gone astray
"Co' boss, co', boss [illegible]

Now to the task the milkmaid goes
The cattle come crowding through the gate
Lowing, pushing little and great
About the trough by the farm yard pump
The frolicsome yearlings frisk and jump
While the pleasant dews are falling,
The new milch heifer is quick and shy
But the old cow waits with tranquil eye
And the white stream into the bright pail flows
When to her task the milkmaid goes
Soothingly calling,—
"So boss, so, boss, so [illegible]
The cheerful milkmaid takes her stool
And sits and milks in the twilight cool
Saying, "So, so, boss! so! so

To supper at last the farmer goes
The apples are pared, the paper read,
The stories are told, then all to bed
Without the cricket's ceaseless song,
Makes shrill the silence all night long,
The heavy dews are falling
The housewife's hand has turned the lock,
Drowsily ticks the kitchen clock,
The household sinks to deep repose
But still in sleep the farm boy goes
Singing, calling —
"Co', boss! co', boss co'! co' co'!"
And oft the milkmaid in her dreams,
Drums in the pail with the dashing streams,
Murmuring, "So, boss! so!"

How Jeff. Davis Went Out to Cowhide a Wisconsin Boy and How he Didn't Do It.

[From the Milwaukee Sentinel, Nov 8]

It is probably known to but very few of the present citizens of our State that Wisconsin has the high distinction of having given Mr. Jefferson Davis, ex-President of the ex-Confederate States, his first public whipping.

It should be remembered that Master Jeff was educated for the army at the expense of the Government he so ungratefully betrayed, and entered the service as a lean, lank, imperious, overbearing Lieutenant, and was stationed at Fort Howard and Fort Winnebago about the years 1829 to 1831. In 1830 or 1831 he was stationed at the latter post, where the circumstances we are about to relate occurred. For a year or two previous a Buckeye boy named Stewart—a full sized, well built, muscular man, as good natured as an elephant—had been in the employ of Judge Arndt, of Green Bay, in building what were called Mackinaw boats, with which most of the river transportation was done. At the time we are speaking of, Stewart was engaged in mechanical works at Fort Winnebago, where Davis was stationed.

Jeff. in the meantime, had become enamored of pretty young woman, of semi-aboriginal origin, or, in plain English, a half-breed, and was very jealous of any attentions bestowed upon her by others. From some cause or other the monster within him fixed his green eyes upon Stewart, and he swore by all the buttons on his coat that he would cowhide the miserable Yankee out of his skin. The idea of such a miserable wisp of skin and bones attacking such a built man as Stewart was preposterous enough, and his threats were regarded as mere Southern gasconade. But Jeff. evidently calculated as he did on a later occasion, that the low-born plebeian would never dare to resist a high-born Southern, but would crouch and take all he might see fit to lay on, and so, providing himself with a good cowhide, he watched his opportunity.

The desired occasion was not long delayed One evening, after the days work was ended, as Stewart was walking in front of the fort, Davis came out and without ceremony began to lay it on. But he found, as he did in the rebellion, that there was two parties to the controversy. A blow or two was sufficient to arouse the lion, and Stewart as he turned upon him, planted his left digits under Jeff's right ribs and his right ones under his left ear and knocked him end over end. Stewart was not a professional pugilist, and did not wait for his adversary to rise, but pounced upon him like a tiger and, laying Jeff's wrists side by side on his chest, held them both as in a vice with his left hand, and kept his right hand ready for further action Poor Davis half dead from the two sledgehammer blows he had received, squirmed and twisted in vain. There he was, fast as if he had been in the iron arms of a guillotine and at the mercy of his adversary By this time Stewart had become quite cool, and told Davis he deserved a good pounding "but," said he, "if you will take back what you have said about me, and agree to let me alone, I will let you up without further injury."

No, he would never do any such thing. Then Stewart began to slap Jeff's face first on this side and then on the other, and then repeated his demand for the pledge, and Jeff again refused. Then he pulled his nose and twisted it and slapped his face some more In the meantime the garrison was all astir, and General, then Major, Twiggs, the same that went over to the rebellion with his whole command of United States troops stationed in Texas, a giant of a man physically, standing about six feet six and of full proportions, but a confessed coward withal, came out and peremptorily ordered Stewart to let Davis up, an order which, as commander of the fort, he could have executed summarily if he had the pluck to do it. Stewart replied that he would not let him up an inch till he apologized and promised to keep the peace, and said he, "Major, you can't make me do it. and if you want to take a hand in this fight, just try it on, and I will whip you and your whole garrison if you will bring out your men in squads of not more than six at a time." And then he went on manipulating Jeff's cheeks and nose and ears and repeating his demands for "indemnity for the past and security for the future," while Twiggs looked on in mute astonishment at the audacious pluck of the Yankee boatbuilder. Finally, the embryo rebel President, seeing no way to escape, either by bluster, main strength, or the interference of the Major, concluded to accept the situation, took all back and promised to treat Stewart as a gentleman and was let up, remarking, as he went away, that he never received such blows from man or horse and probably he never did again till another Buckeye boy met him in another wilderness. He said he felt as if he had been kicked by a mule. Jeff should have remembered that lesson, and never again presumed, as he did in getting up the rebellion, upon a Yankee's holding still to be kicked

The writer of this article did not witness this interesting fight, but was well acquainted with Stewart, and received the foregoing account of the affair from his own mouth soon after the occurrence, as well as from the lips of others who witnessed it and the narrative we have given may be relied upon as substantially correct.

Here is an effecting scene on a ferry boat crossing a rough river "Oh, Henry, this is terrible." "Yes it is," he responded, "but lean on me and I will protect you" "Do you think it will be as rough as this all the way across?" "I do," responded Henry "Then I guess I'll have to lean on you," returned the lady "For life?" whispered Henry, turning pale at the thought of refusal "I —I —don't know—the water is awful rough I guess yes, yes you'd better ask papa"

In 1843 J Ross Browne mailed a letter from Louisville, Ky, weighing one ounce, upon which the unpaid postage was $1, to Mr Wm W Snowden, editor of the [illegible], New York Mr S refused to take it out of the postoffice and it was sent to Washington among the dead letters It was accidentally picked up the other day among some of the literary rubbish of the Department, and at once forwarded to the writer.

Something about Oysters

We are glad to learn that Governor Bowie of Maryland purposes to lend his executive influence to the development of the fisheries of the basin of the Chesapeake which including oysters, shad, and herring, are of more commercial value than all the inland fisheries of all the States combined and which will eventually form a source of wealth for the States of Maryland and Virginia, the enormous prospective value of which is at this time difficult to estimate

We have recently had a glance at an able report lately furnished by Captain Davidson in command of the Oyster Police for the State of Maryland, which certainly deserves the honors of print as a document of almost universal interest

From this report we glean some curious facts as new to us as we suppose they are to a majority of our readers. Though there are excellent oysters at different points along the Gulf coast there are climatic and other reasons forbidding their ever becoming of commercial importance, while the beds North of the Delaware are all supplied from the Chesapeake hence Maryland and Virginia may be said virtually to possess the monopoly of the oyster trade of the North American continent The area in Maryland covered more or less densely with these fish is immense, amounting to something near three hundred and fifty square miles and on this surface they are found at depths varying from four to sixty feet

The oyster is said to be hermaphrodite It spawns in the months of April, May, June and August, and is wonderfully prolific each mature mollusk producing annually about one million of young, but as a wise check upon this marvelous fecundity, nature has created for it innumerable enemies, among which may be enumerated the star fish, the drill, the winkle, the crab the drum-fish, the sheepshead, but far more destructive than all these combined in the reckless use of the heavy iron dredges which, dragged over the beds night and day, in every direction, in shallow as in deep water, from September to June destroys a thousand oysters for one taken, indeed, so destructive is this process, as now carried on that the oyster fisheries of the Chesapeake like those of France and England, will soon cease to be productive, and a great source of wealth be lost to the State. Without proscribing the dredge altogether, its use should be rigidly restricted to daylight and to water too deep to be sounded by the tongs.

We learn from Captain Davidson's report that the number of oysters legitimately taken with the dredge (to say nothing of those taken in violation of law) within the waters of Maryland, amounted last year to six million three hundred and five thousand bushels, while those taken by licensed canoes and for private use amounted to three million seven hundred and twenty nine thousand bushels which gives an aggregate of ten millions of bushels as the annual product of the Maryland beds, and it is confidently believed by those who have made this subject a study, that under regulations such as are now successful in France, this product might be increased ten-fold, and the fisheries would afford employment for twenty thousand laborers

Alluding in his report to the profits of oyster culture, Captain Davidson writes as follows "I know of no enterprise which is more remunerative and which need give less anxiety as to certainty of results, if ordinary personal attention is given to the business Almost every bend of our shores protected from the storms, is a mine of wealth, if the efforts of our people can ever be turned in that direction. Few persons not engaged in the trade are aware how rapidly oysters will increase in size and condition when taken from their native beds in their clustered heaps, and then culled and planted singly and permitted to rest undisturbed for a season I know of an instance where fifteen thousand were thus taken and thus treated, costing not exceeding fifty cents per bushel from first to last, and every bushel of which is now worth in the market one dollar and fifty cents —Turf, Field and Farm

WHAT ARE WE TO DO —The Sacramento Record propounds the following conundrum

The San Francisco Bulletin says that one of the leading business men of that city declares his belief that a discount of ten thousand dollars of good mercantile paper could not be obtained on fair terms at any bank there. This is because there is not money enough in the State to do its business, and so what little there is charges exorbitant interest for its use Thus, it is eating up the substance of California, and also compelling such high prices that everybody comes here and undersells us We want more money to do our business, but, because so many of our purchasers can go East and buy with greenbacks, they are taking from us what little money we have got, and because we cannot make the world strip itself of its coin to supply us, this deficit will grow larger all the time. What are we to do?

One day Fitz Greene Halleck, in his capacity of clerk to John Jacob Astor, called on a rich but miserly old fellow to collect a draft To make the payment exact the merchant needed six cents back, which the clerk did not happen to have. He almost insisted that Halleck should go for it to the office, which was a mile away, and finally consented to wait, on the strength of Halleck's solemn promise that the money should be paid. Halleck happened to know that the old man was a late riser, and very averse to be disturbed. The next morning, at daybreak, he was at the merchant's door, and told the maid servant that he must see her master on important business. The old gentleman got on his clothes and came down cross enough, when Halleck, with his best bow and sweetest smile, handed him the four pence ha'penny.

A Mississippi paper, which keeps a reporter expressly for description, has the following picture of a candidate for office of the party which it opposes

"His head is about as large as a coon's, and recedes so rapidly from the root of his nose that if a stream of water were poured perpendicularly upon his brow, more of it would run off the back of his head than off his face. His organs of intellection, if he ever had any, have vacated and taken up their abode in the posterior part of his brain, which makes the cerebellum appear like a market basket hung to the back of his head. His teeth seem to be all gone, and his gums close up to keep his chin out of danger His nose looks like the butt end of a blood beet, and his eyes look like auger holes in a muskmelon rind"

FORM OF PROPOSAL, GUARANTEE AND CERTIFICATE.

Proposal

The undersigned [illegible] whose post office address is [illegible] county of [illegible] State of [illegible] proposes to convey the mails of the United States from July 1, 1870 to June 30, 1874, on route No —, between [illegible] and [illegible] under the advertisement of the Postmaster General dated September [illegible] 1869 with [illegible] celerity, certainty and security [illegible] for the annual sum of [illegible] dollars

This proposal is made with full knowledge of the distance, the route, the weight of the mail to be carried, and all other particulars in reference to the route and service, and also after careful examination of the laws and instructions attached to the advertisement
Dated (Signed)

Guarantee

The undersigned, residing at [illegible] State of [illegible] undertake that if the foregoing bid for carrying the mail on route No —— be accepted by the Postmaster General the bidder shall prior to the 1st day of July 1870 enter into the required obligation or contract to perform the service proposed, with good and sufficient sureties

This we do, understanding distinctly the obligations and liabilities assumed by guarantors under the 27th section of the act of Congress of July 2 1836
Dated (Signed by two guarantors)

Certificate

The undersigned postmaster at — State of ——, certifies under his oath of office that he is acquainted with the above guarantors and knows them to be men of property and able to make good their guarantee
Dated (Signed)
[illegible] Oregon and Wash [illegible]

INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS AND POSTMASTERS;

Containing also conditions to be incorporated in the contracts to the extent the Department may deem proper

1 Seven minutes are allowed to each intermediate office, when not otherwise specified, for assorting the mails but on railroad and steamboat routes there is to be no more delay than is sufficient for an exchange of the mail pouches

2 On railroad and steamboat lines, and other routes where the mode of conveyance admits of it the special agents of the Post Office Department, also post office blanks, mail bags, locks and keys, are to be conveyed without extra charge.

3 On railroad and steamboat lines the route agents of the Department also the British and Canada mails when offered, and the agents accompanying them are conveyed without charge and for the use of the United States agents a room all or car or part of a car properly lighted, warmed and furnished and adapted to the convenient separation and due security of the mails is to be provided by the contractor under the direction of the Department

Railroad and steamboat companies are required to take the mail from, and deliver it into, the postoffices at the beginning and end of their routes, and to and from all offices not more than eighty rods from a station or landing. Proposals may be submitted by the companies for the performance of all other side service that is, for offices over eighty rods from a station or landing

There will be way bills prepared by postmasters, or other agents of the Department, to accompany the mails conveyed on railroads and steamers, specifying the number and destination of the several bags. On other principal routes, likewise receipts will be required and way bills forwarded the latter to be examined by the several postmasters, to insure regularity in the delivery of mails

4 No pay will be made for trips not performed and for each of such omissions not satisfactorily explained three times the pay of the trip will be deducted For arrivals so far behind time as to break connection with depending mails and not sufficiently excused, one fourth of the compensation for the trip is subject to forfeiture. For repeated delinquencies of the kind herein specified, enlarged penalties proportioned to the nature thereof, and the importance of the mail may be made

5 For leaving behind or throwing off the mails, or any portion of them, for the admission of passengers, or for being concerned in setting up or running an express conveying intelligence in advance of the mail, a quarter's pay may be deducted

6 Fines will be imposed, unless the delinquency be promptly and satisfactorily explained by certificates of postmasters or the affidavits of other credible persons for failing to arrive in contract time, for neglecting to take the mail from, or deliver it into a postoffice for suffering it to be wet, injured destroyed, robbed or lost, and for refusing after demand to convey the mail as frequently as the contractor runs or is concerned in running a coach, car, or steamboat on a route

7 The Postmaster General may annul the contract for repeated failures to run agreeably to contract, for violating the post office laws or disobeying the instructions of the Department for refusing to discharge a carrier when required by the Department to do so, for running an express as aforesaid or for transporting persons or packages conveying mailable matter out of the mail

8 The Postmaster General may order an increase of service on a route by allowing therefor a pro rata increase on the contract pay He may change schedules of departures and arrivals in all cases and particularly to make them conform to connections with railroads without increase of pay provided the running time be not abridged The Postmaster General may also discontinue or curtail the service in whole or in part in order to place on the route superior service or whenever the public interests in his judgment shall require such discontinuance or curtailment for any other cause he allowing as full indemnity to contractor one month's extra pay on the amount of service dispensed with and a pro rata compensation for the amount of service retained and continued

9 Payments will be made by collections from or drafts on postmasters or otherwise after the expiration of each quarter—say in November February May and August

10 The distances are given according to the best information but no increased pay will be allowed should they be greater than advertised if the points to be supplied are correctly stated. Bidders must inform themselves on this point, and also in reference to the weight of the mail the condition of the roads hills streams & and all toll bridges ferries or obstructions of any kind by which expense may be incurred No claim for additional pay based on such ground can be considered nor for alleged mistakes or misapprehension as to the degree of service nor for bridges destroyed ferries discontinued or other obstructions increasing distance or expense occurring during the contract term Offices established after this advertisement is issued and also those discontinued are to be visited without extra pay if the distance be not increased
